Its quite intresting.but I think not worth the money.surely not recommended for players under 100 hours of flight experience.Only problem with this is AI speaks too much and makes all the decision.you just have to follow it.would be better if we could make some decision.otherwise this add on is good. Combined with the very comprehensive groundschool manual, these missions opened up a new way of using my simulator. The missions are well made and have clear instructions..
